Canvastic Dot NET is now Free
'Simple, Easy Page Publishing for Primary Students'

Lafayette, CO July 18, 2012 – Canvastic LLC has been offering their online version of the popular publishing solution for students and teachers called Canvastic.NET since 2008. It is now a free service. Canvastic version 3.5, is the desktop application for Macintosh and Windows computers. This web application version, Dot NET, extends the use of Canvastic to any computer anywhere with Internet access and the Adobe Flash plugin installed.

Canvastic.NET (pronounced: CANVASTIC DOT NET) was previously available only as a yearly subscription. Now it is totally free for all students to use at home and school.

Canvastic.NET has been successfully tested on Macintosh, Windows, Linux, and Solaris computers using Internet Explorer, Safari, and Firefox browsers. Installing the current version of Flash is recommended for optimal performance.

Advertisement free subscriptions are still available upon request. Contact sales@canvastic.com.
